TEN CENTS PER WEEK

KY. FIELD TRIALS ENDED SATURDAY [WITH FINE SPORT]

Sixty-Six Dogs Participated in Three Events and Best Bird Dogs in Country Were Present—Sportsmen From All Over Country Attended.

LIST OF THE SUCCESSFUL ONES

With the $600 all age stakes, which was concluded Saturday evening the field trials of the Kentucky Field Trials association at La Center, came to a close. It was the most successful meet in the history of the association in point of attendance, and number and excellence of entries. The best dogs and principal sportsmen of the country attended. There were more than 100 present, and 88 dogs were in the field. There were 66 entries, 12 in the Members stake; 20 in the derby, the $300 stake, and 24 in the all age stake for $600. The winners of the events are qualified for entry in the grand national trials at Grand Junction, Tenn., next January. The derby was for dogs, whelped since January, 1907, and the all age stake for any dog, that never had won a state or national prize.

Among the leading sportsmen in attendance were Secretary Booker, of Louisville, President M. M. Bardwell, of McHenry; Tom Johnson, of Winnipeg, Manitoba; Tom Pace, of Jellico, Tenn., owner of Champion Prince, winner of last year's national trophy; A. H. Ball, of New York, and Fred S. Hall, of Detroit. This year many ladies rode after the dogs. The field was the best ever secured. The territory was large and well stocked with birds, and the Ballard county farmers entered with enthusiasm into the sport, preventing hunting before the trials. The rains just preceding the opening event, made atmospheric conditions and the ground just right for the dogs and they took the scent as soon as released.

It is not known yet where the trials will be held next year, but probably in the same place.

HARRY CLARK WELL KNOWN

YOUNG MAN, PASSES AWAY.
Mr. Harry O. Clark, son of Mr. Mann W. Clark, police and fire commissioner, died Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock at his home on Sixth and Ohio streets, after a lingering illness of consumption.

Harry Clark was 21 years old and was born and reared in Paducah. About four years ago he entered the grocery business in Indian Territory and remained there until his health failed. Then he came home and grew gradually worse till death came. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. The burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

Thaw Trial Will Be Postponed Until After New Year's Day By Agreement of Counsel on Both Sides in the Case

New York, Nov. 25.—The second trial of Harry K. Thaw, set for one week from tomorrow, will again be postponed, and there is little chance that it will be called until well along in January. The decision to ask for a postponement has been agreed to by both sides. It is due partly to the fact that the task of selecting a jury would be made doubly hard by the approaching of the holidays and the prospects before the talesmen of spending Christmas and New Years looked up under the care of court bailiffs, and also the fact that Thaw's counsel has applied to the court for permission to inspect secret evidence presented before the lunacy commission during the first trial. There is a rumor that the attorneys for Thaw may apply for a change of venue declaring a fair trial for their client in

New York county is impossible. Such move, if made, would be based upon the alleged unfriendly attitude of many local papers and the extent to which the evidence was printed and read in this county. District Attorney Jerome will seriously oppose the granting of a change of venue. Thaw, in his cell in the famous old Tombs prison, which he has occupied since the night of the tragedy on Madison Square Roof Garden June 25, 1906, is planning for his second trial with the same confidence of acquittal that he prepared for the first ordeal. He daily advises with his counsel, chafes at the delays already encountered in getting his story before a second jury and is impatient for his days in court to begin. It is nearly a year since the first trial was begun.

CONSCRIPTION IS NECESSARY, SAYS GEN'L AINSWORTH

Washington, Nov. 25.—Conscription may be found to be the only remedy to maintain the army at its authorized strength, is the suggestion of Adjutant General Ainsworth in his report published today. Congress is called upon to increase the pay and restore the canteen.

MONROE E. DODD ACCEPTS CALL TO BAPTIST CHURCH

Will Assume His Pastorate Here January 1, When Dr. Calvin M. Thompson Will Go to Louisville to Become Editor of Western Recorder.

TWO NEW MINISTERS HEARD

The Rev. Monroe E. Dodd, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church, of Fulton, Ky., yesterday announced his acceptance of the pastorate of the First Baptist church in this city. He will assume the pulpit January 1st, at which time the Rev. Calvin M. Thompson, D. D., will assume editorship of the Western Recorder, the leading denominational paper of the Southern Baptists. Dr. Thompson's headquarters will be at Louisville. The Rev. Monroe E. Dodd, is 37 years old, a forceful speaker and a man of intellect and aggressiveness. He has a record of having built up his church in Fulton during his four years' pastorate. His family consists of his wife and two daughters.

"Nehemiah."

"Nehemiah" was the subject of the sermon the new pastor at Broadway Methodist church, the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, delivered before large congregations at each service. Dr. Sullivan left this morning for Paris to bring back his family and household goods and will return Wednesday to remain permanently. In both sermons yesterday, Mr. Sullivan made a most favorable impression and the subject as he handled it was appropriate to the opening of the new church year.

True greatness, Dr. Sullivan said, comes from God, and "Nehemiah" was one of the greatest of men. He was the central figure of a great movement, just as all great world movements have centered around the personality of some one great man. Nehemiah had a strong building instinct, which is the home instinct in mankind, and he was inspired with the important purpose of rebuilding the breaches in the walls of Jerusalem. This greatness, "Nehemiah" had, and his desire to repair the house of God, should be the example. Dr. Sullivan continued, of all churches and individuals today. The breaches in the churches should be repaired and God's work should go on uninterrupted.

Nature in powerful explosives such as radium, has simply concentrated its force in a small body, and a man like "Nehemiah" has in his soul, the concentrated force of God, which bursts out and demolishes error, leaving a new order of things. This concentrated power of God is available to any one who will grasp it, and if we do take hold of it, we will clean out our house and hearts, repair the breaches and waste places just as "Nehemiah" did in a larger way in Jerusalem. Dr. Sullivan said the various reform movements in the United States today are that spirit of rebuilding the walls of our ideals and institutions.

"Faith, Hope and Love." "Faith, Hope and Love" was the theme of the Rev. J. S. Dean of Clinton, Ky., in his trial sermon at the

BEN. M. GRIFFITH, FLAGMAN FALLS WHILE ATTEMPTING TO CATCH TRAIN AND IS KILLED

Tenth street Christian church Sunday morning. It was a masterly effort and showed Mr. Dean to be a scholar. Mr. Dean is a native of Tennessee, and is 28 years old. Last June he was graduated from Bible College of Kentucky. Since then to the present time he has been preaching at Clinton and Greenwood. He may be called to the Tenth street church.

Sermon on Ezekiel.

"Ezekiel, the First Pastor of a City Church," was the theme of the Rev. David Cady Wright's sermon at Grace Episcopal church last evening. With "Ezekiel" Dr. Wright inaugurated a series of Sunday night sermons, "Old World Preachers" that will follow a line of thought especially adapted to present day problems with characteristic vigor and charm, "Ezekiel" a powerful personality. "Is Jonah History or Myth?" will be discussed next Sunday evening.

Additions to Church.

There were two additions to the Broadway Methodist church at the service last evening. There was one addition to the German Evangelical church.

Cumberland Presbyterian church at Rogers' hall, Twelfth street and Broadway, 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

He had picked a wounded bird out of a thicket, setting his gun down the while, and when he lifted his gun, a twig snapped the hammer, and the charge shattered his right arm, from the tip of his little finger to his elbow. It is hoped amputation will not be necessary. The wound bled last night, and Mr. Bulger was exhausted from the trip, but revived under stimulants.

Well Known Paducah Man Meets Death in Sudden Manner at Calvert City.

Cousin of R-republican Candidate for City Assessor, Harlan Griffith.

While attempting to catch the engine of a moving Illinois Central freight train near Little Cypress yesterday Benjamin Griffith, a flagman, who lived at Twenty-fourth street and Broadway, was killed. He fell and his head struck a stone and was horribly crushed. Griffith was picked up by the train men and placed in the engine cab and a hurry run was made to Paducah, where he was taken to the railroad hospital, reaching here at 1:20. But the railway surgeons found that he was beyond medical attention, being barely alive when the institution was reached. Death resulted about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Griffith left Paducah Sunday about 11 o'clock with extra No. 855, in charge of Conductor Nangle. At Calvert City Griffith went back to flag extra No. 907, which was following, and for some reason his own train left him behind. When the second extra was passing Griffith attempted to catch the engine, but missed the handhold and was thrown violently to the ground. Engineer A. C. McClure and Fireman H. Peltor, who were on the engine, hastily applied the emergency brakes, and the train was brought to a standstill and the then almost lifeless body, placed in the cab and returned to Paducah.

Benjamin Griffith was a man about 25 years old and a member of a prominent Graves county family. He removed to Paducah several months ago and secured employment with the railroad company and was considered a careful and reliable employe.

Besides a young wife, formerly Miss Mary Bonset, and one small child, Mr. Griffith leaves a mother, Mrs. Laura Griffith, of Graves county, three brothers, who are Earl Griffith, of Paducah, and Edward and Marvin Griffith, of near Mayfield. One sister, Miss Myrtle Griffith, resides with her mother.

After a short service at the home this morning at 9 a. m. the body was carried to Liberty church, near Folsomdale, Graves county, his former home, for burial, the services at the grave being conducted by the Odd Fellows lodge of which he was a member.

The pall bearers were: J. M. Cockrell, Lumer Parent, G. T. Looney, C. A. Russell, H. C. Meyers and Joseph Potter.

PETER ARLUND IS UNDER ARREST ON PADUCAH WARRANT

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 25.—Peter Arlund, promoter was arrested here on a Paducah warrant. He is charged with passing a forged check on a Paducah man.

Peter Arlund is well remembered by citizens of Paducah and some of the capitalists, especially, whom he interested in some of his promotions, among which was the Paducah Iron furnace at Third and Norton streets, where many thousands of dollars were expended in the building and machinery without any visible reward to them.

Detective Will Baker, who is in charge of the police station this afternoon, did not know of any warrant being issued through that department for Arlund's arrest. Chief Collins, Detective Moore and Judge Cross were away attending a funeral. At the sheriff's office nothing was known of the warrant.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Dandy Dixie Minstrels.

The St. Joseph Press says of the Dandy Dixie Minstrels, looked for Friday night at The Kentucky: "The Dandy Dixie Minstrels, all negroes, last night scored a decided hit with one of the largest Lyceum audiences of the season. The company is made up of half a dozen soloists of merit, four punsters who have annexed a number of original jokes, and includes one of the best negro choruses heard here and a host of clever dancers. The opening scene is well set, a reproduction of Palm Beach, Florida.

"Among the soloists last night Hayward Wooten perhaps is entitled to the greatest praise. Sam Davis 'got in good' at once with his 'Goin' to Do When Your Clothes Wear Out?' and Bessie Jones' 'Take Your Time' and 'Help Yourself' were unusually entertaining. Monroe Taber was required to sing an encore number, when he appeared in 'With You in Eternity,' and James Crosby convulsed the house with the familiar baseball song, 'When Noah Gave Out Checks for Rain.' Crosby followed with a reading, 'Kelly's Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good" and Doctor Pierce's medicines, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have gone by the board and are never heard of. There can be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest. Hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly faded into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, nervousness, dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little higher profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for women's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stands over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve-line it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booster" for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equalled.

NEWS NOTES FROM SUNDAY PAPERS.

Members of the Democratic National committee will accept Louisville's invitation to go and see what the city has to offer in the way of inducement to get the next national convention. The Louisville delegation presented Louisville's claims before an informal meeting of the committee at French Lick Springs, Ind. A formal decision will be made in December, when the committee will meet in Washington. Denver offered $100,000 in gold.

Answers and bills of exception were filed by the many diversified interests involved in the injunction proceedings instituted by Stuyvesant Fish in his fight for control of the Illinois Central railroad. Mr. Fish is accused of having formerly voted the stock that he now seeks to have tied up and with running the road for his own personal advancement and without the sanction of the directors.

Edwin P. Ansley, a real estate man of Atlanta, Ga., has written President Roosevelt suggesting a relief for the financial stringency that improved land be made a basis for currency. He declares that is less liable to fluctuation in value than any other asset, and that the adoption of his plan would prevent any stringency in the money market.

Representative Fowler, chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, describes the administration's action in issuing Panama canal bonds and treasury certificates as "surprising, extraordinary, unwarranted and most unfortunate."

Japanese Passion for Art.
Japanese art has been developed for themselves, uninfluenced. And when we add to this fact that Japan is unquestionably the most artistic nation on the face of the earth today we are in a position to appreciate the value of what the Japanese have to give, and to go to them humbly to learn, and to go quickly, too, before imitation has tarnished the purity of their work.

Art is a common passion in Japan. As a nation the Japanese are more highly sensitive to the beauties of the outside world than any other people of which the world has record. Where else do they, in all seriousness, hang verses on trees in honor of their beauty? What other sovereign would make an annual pilgrimage to watch the ducks flying over a lake, or the sun set behind a mountain. And is there any other country in the world where the newspapers mention the opening of the spring-blossoms as a bit of news of importance, or where a whole family will go out into the street to judge the correct placing of a saucer in a shop window?—Circle.

HERE'S TO A HAPPY THANKSGIVING

Peace
and good will
to all
men.

MAKE IT A REAL ONE.

MAKE the national feast day one of genuine rejoicing. You can make it the happiest day of your life if you will—it depends upon yourself. To make others happy is to make yourself happiest of all, and what better way to make your "homefolks" happy than by the gift of a much-needed piece of furniture. Doesn't your dining room really need something new? Something for this room would be particularly appropriate just now. Also look into the kitchen—hasn't that old stove been used about long enough, and wouldn't your Thanksgiving dinner be much easier prepared and taste better if you had a new one? A small cash payment and a little a week will get what you want.

Our Offerings in Dining Room Furniture right now far surpasses anything that we have ever heretofore had the pleasure to show you. It is equal to the showings of the much larger cities, and prices guaranteed less. Pick out any of these sets you like, make a small cash payment and the balance a little at a time is all we ask.

Would You Like to Take Life Easy?

Would you like to have two or three hours more every day to call your own? If so you can easily do so. A BUCK'S RANGE and a McDOUGALL CABINET will show you how. And it won't cost you one cent, either, for they will pay for themselves inside of the first year. There isn't a single good reason why you should not own one, but there are many reasons why you should not experiment with so-called "cheap" cabinets and ranges. Call and let us show you the difference.

Chinaware Headquarters

What will add more to the pleasure of the Thanksgiving dinner than nice, pretty dishes? We always have an elegant assortment in imported and domestic goods. Our special feature is "open stock patterns. You" can get just as little or as much as you want of any pattern.

Good, Clean Credit, the Life Blood of the People!

The credit plan when first originated was crude in a measure, but we have developed with the progress of the world. Many years ago it had some unpleasant features; today it has none. It is the boon to salaried people. It places them on the same level with their independent neighbors. We promise you no unpleasant features when you buy here. Don't delay, but open an account with us right away.

Daily Thought.

"We are not slaves driven to work by the lash of a taskmaster. We are the sons of God, laboring together with our Father. Therefore, the joy that God has in His work, when He sees that it is very good, should be shared by us, His fellow-workers."

"Man is losing the respect of woman," says Judge McEwen, who must have observed the fondness of some women for poodle dogs.

Gompers says women should demand "union made" goods. It only remains for the federation to put women on the unfair list to seal its doom.

That Illinois primary law is designed to do away with mass plays and afford more scope for forward passes and trick plays.

What has President Roosevelt done or said to bring down on his head the condemnation of the chief justice? Every time a citizen declares that Roosevelt is the logical man to succeed to the presidency, must he issue a bulletin that he is not a candidate? Or failing to silence his admirers in that way, must he set about to make himself unpopular with the country? For our part we shall hail Roosevelt as the logical candidate until a more available man presents himself; and we assume the president will go ahead attending efficiently to the duties of his high office and keeping his mouth shut about his successor. How can Roosevelt with any sort of dignity decline the presidency, before it is proffered him?

Being on time doesn't consist in getting there just as the game starts.
Preparation, not hurry, is the essential of speed.

ABOUT GARBAGE DISPOSAL.
The Sun trusts the members of the general council will give careful consideration to all suggestions for the improvement of the garbage disposal service, and do a little original investigating themselves. Especial attention should be directed to that part of the system, which is concerned with the collection of refuse.
Piling refuse in open cans and boxes, into which dogs may dig and scatter the stuff over the streets and alleys, and its removal in open wagons, or cracks, permitting the refuse to fall into the streets, should be prohibited.
Investigation of the present system, or lack of system, will disclose the most unsanitary conditions prevailing in sections of the city, that would surprise even the health department, used as it is to finding people, who ought to know better, careless about their own welfare.
No one doubts the folly of throwing filth and refuse into running streams, the simple policy of all cities, where it is possible. Everybody in Paducah knows the trouble experienced every spring, because the garbage float cannot get out to the current, and the refuse floats in an eddy back of Riverside hospital, endangering the whole north side.

Burning the garbage is considered the best means of disposing of it.
Whether the reduction plant of the United States Construction and Utilization company, fills all the requirements, The Sun has no means of knowing, nor is it advocating the adoption of any particular plan. The Sun is certain only that Paducah needs a better system, that will keep garbage off the streets and out of the back water.

It is safe to say that Roosevelt didn't ask Bryan's advice about the financial situation.

King Carlos, of Portugal, promises to banish everything, except his black bottle sweet meats from the table.

The time to have investigated that state primary was immediately after the primary. The investigation now is a too palpable attempt of Governor Beckham's foes to find an excuse for repudiating the primary pledge and defeating him. Poor Kentucky Democracy! Must she be rent still further by the strife of machine politicians?

THE CITY WAY.

"The difference between the way the country papers write up tragedies and other occurrences and the manner of the average city paper in dealing with the same things is illustrated in the following from the Somerset Journal, says the Kentucky State Journal:

"A quarrel occurred in the opera house Wednesday night between Ora Britton and a young son of Ike Taylor, from the region of Clifty Creek.
Later Britton struck Taylor with a rock, in front of the opera house, inflicting a wound from which he died yesterday afternoon. Britton escaped arrest."

"Here is told in a nine line item what the average lazy reporter on a city daily would have taken up perhaps columns to tell. Maybe the quotation is a little too meager in its statements, but it is in line with the orders of late Editor Dana, of the New York Sun, to be as brief as possible in stating a case and then boil it down.

"The lazy city reporter would have told all about the cause leading up to the tragedy, how the man fell, where the rock struck him, what the participants said, or they imagined they said, and so on ad nauseam."

And yet the lazy city reporter and his lazy editor know what their readers want. They would ask what the quarrel was about, the records of the two men; what time the quarrel took place; who started it, what the people who witnessed it did; what was done with the men afterwards; what they said, etc. And by the way, it requires a lot of energy on the part of a lazy city reporter to see everybody connected with the tragedy, get up his data, write it entertainingly and accurately and do all his other work besides. And, strange as it may seem, the city editor would tell a reporter, who would write such a brief account of such a startling tragedy, that he was too lazy to get all the details.

It is a peculiar phase of human nature, well known to every newspaper man, that the people, who witnessed the tragedy would be the most anxious to read a long account of it, and the newspaper man writes his stories principally for the people, who already know all the facts. They are his critics.

Wilson was elected by 18,053 majority, and it is worthy of comment, in view of the fact that his election is attributed by some wholly to a Democratic slump that he received 10,278 more votes than did Belknap four years ago, which speaks a healthy growth in the party vote.

Mayor Yeiser has torn down and built up some political fences in his time. It was a stroke of genius to put him at the head of the committee on laws and fences.

BLINDFOLDED

A Mystery Story
of San Francisco

BY

EARLE ASHLEY WALCOTT

The young woman sank back in her chair, clasped her hands in her lap as her mother had done, and glanced hastily about. Then in a low voice she said:

"Be yourself."
It was an electric shock she gave me, not more by the words than by the tone.

I struggled for a moment before I regained my mental balance.

"Don't you think we could get on safer ground?" I suggested.

"No," said Luella. "There isn't any safer ground for us otherwise."

The sudden heart-sickness at the remainder of my mission with which these words overwhelmed me, tied my tongue and mastered my spirits. It was this girl's father that I was pursuing. Oh, why was this burden laid upon me? Why was I to be torn on the rack between inclination and duty?

Luella watched my face narrowly through the conflict in my mind, and I felt as though her spirit struggled with mine to win me to the course of open, honest dealing. But it was impossible. She must be the last of all to know.

Her eyes sank as though she knew which had won the victory, and a proud, scornful look took the place of the grave good humor that had been there a moment before. Then, on a sudden, she began to speak of the theaters, rides, drives and what-not of the pleasures of the day. Suddenly she stopped with a weary look.

"There's Aunt Julia waiting for you," she said with a gleam of malicious pleasure. "Come along. I deliver you over a prisoner of war."

"Wait a minute," I pleaded.

"No," she said, imperiously motioning me. "Come along." And with a sigh I was given, a helpless, but silently protesting, captive, to the mercies of Mrs. Bowser.

That eloquent lady received me with flutter of feathers, if I may borrow the expression, to indicate her pleasure.

"Oh, Mr. Wilton, you'll pardon my boldness, I'm sure," she said with an amiable flirt of the head, as I seated myself beside her and watched Luella melt away into the next room; "but I was afraid you had forgotten all about us poor women, and it's a dreadful thing to be in this great house when there isn't a man about, though of course there are the servants, but you can't count them as men, besides, some of them being Chinamen. And we—that is, I, really did want to see you, and we ought to have so much to talk over, for I've heard that your mother's first cousin was a Bowser, and I do so want to see that dear, delightful Chinatown that I've heard so much about, though they do say it's horrid and dirty, but you'll let us see that for ourselves, won't you, and did you ever go through Chinatown, Mr.
Wilton?"

Mrs. Bowser pulled up her verbal coach-and-six so suddenly that I felt as though she must have been pitched out of the box.

"Oh," said I carelessly, "I've seen the place often enough."

"How nice!" Then suddenly looking grave Mrs. Bowser spoke from behind her fan. "But I hope, Mr. Wilton, there's nothing there that a lady shouldn't see."

I hastened to assure her that it was possible to avoid everything that would bring a blush to the cheek of a maiden of her years.

Mrs. Bowser at this rattled on without coming to any point. I was listening to the flow of her high-pitched voice—without getting any idea from it, when my wandering attention was suddenly recalled by the words, "Mr.
Knapp."

"What was that?" I asked in some confusion. "I didn't catch your meaning."

"I was saying I thought it strange Mr. Knapp wouldn't go with us, and he got awfully cross when I pressed him, and said—oh, Mr. Wilton, he said such a dreadful word—that he'd be everlastingly something if he would ever go into such a lot of dens of—oh, I can't repeat his dreadful language—but wasn't it strange, Mr. Wilton?"

"Very," I said diplomatically; "but it isn't worth while to wait for him, then."

"Oh, laws, no!—he'll be home tomorrow, but he won't go."

"Home to-morrow!" I exclaimed. "I thought he wasn't to come till Wednesday."

Mrs. Bowser looked a little uncon-fortable.

"I guess he's old enough to come and go when he likes," she said. "But her flow of words seemed to desert her."

"Very true," I admitted. "I wonder what's bringing him back in such a hurry."

Mrs. Bowser's heady eyes turned on me in doubt, and for a moment she was dumb. Then she followed this miracle by another, and spoke in a low tone of voice.

"It's not for me to say anything against a man in his own house, but I don't like to talk of Doddridge Knapp."

"What's the matter?" I asked. "A little rough in his speech? Oh, Mrs.
Bowser, you should make allowances for a man who has had to fight his way in the roughest business life in the world, and not expect too much of his polish."

"Oh, laws, he's polite enough," whispered Mrs. Bowser. "It isn't that—oh, I don't see how she ever married him."

I followed the glance that Mrs.
Bowser gave on interrupting herself with this declaration, and saw Mrs.
Knapp approaching us.

"Oh," she exclaimed cheerily, "is it settled? Have you made all the arrangements, Cousin Julia?"

"Well, I declare! I'd forgotten all about telling him," cried Mrs. Bowser in her shrillest tone. "I'd just taken it for a fact that he'd know when to come."

"That's a little too much to expect, I'm afraid," said Mrs. Knapp, smiling gaily at Mrs. Bowser's management. "I see that I shall have to arrange this thing myself. Will Monday night suit you, Henry?"

"As well as another," said I politely, concealing my feelings as a victim of feminine diplomacy.

"You have told him who are going, haven't you?" said Mrs. Knapp, to Mrs. Bowser.

"Laws, no! I never thought but that he knew."

"Oh!" exclaimed Mrs. Knapp. "What a gift as a mindreader Mr. Wilton ought to have! Well, I suppose I'd better not trust to that Henry. There's this to be said, however, of course, and Mr. and Mrs. Carter, and Mr. Horton, and—oh, yes—Luella."

My heart gave a jump, and the trip to Chinatown suddenly became an object of interest.

"I mama?" said an inquiring voice, and Luella herself stood by her mother.

"Yes," said Mrs. Knapp. "It's the Chinatown expedition for Monday night."

Luella looked annoyed, and tapped her foot to the floor impatiently.

"With Mr. Wilton," there was the eldest emphasis on the words, "to accompany the party, I shouldn't think it would be necessary for me to go."

"It is either you or I," said Mrs.
Knapp.

"You will be needed to protect Mr.
Horton," said I sarcastically.

"Oh, what a task!" she said gaily.
"I shall be ready." And she turned away before I could put in another word, and I walked down the room with Mrs. Knapp.

"And so Mr. Knapp is coming home to-morrow?" I said.

Mrs. Knapp gave me a quick look.
"Yes," she said. There was something in her tone that set me to thinking that there was more than I knew behind Mr. Knapp's sudden return.

"I hope he is not ill," I said politely.
"I think you will find him all right when you see him. But here—you must meet Mr. and Mrs. Carter. They are just from the East, and very charming people, and as you are to do them the honors on Monday evening, you should know them."

Mr. and Mrs. Carter had pleasant faces and few ideas, and as the conversational fire soon burned low I sought Mrs. Knapp and took my leave. Luella was nowhere to be seen.

"You must be sure that you are well guarded," said Mrs. Knapp. "It quite gives me the horrors to think of those murderous fellows. And since you told me of that last plot to kill you down to Horton's, I have a presentiment that some special danger is ahead of you. Be cautious as well as brave."

I thanked her as she pressed my hand, and, with no Luella awaiting me by the stair, I took my way down the stone steps, between the bronze lions, and joined Porter and Barkhouse on the sidewalk.

BANKS ON ISSUE

SUGGESTED AS MEANS MEETING SITUATION.

Industrial Investments are Fast Settling Conditions in Financial World.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—That President Roosevelt will be urged to recommend the establishment of federal banks of issue as part of the plans to be devised to prevent money famines and financial disturbances, such as the country has been passing through during the last few weeks is the belief of people here who have conferred with western senators and representatives who have been in Washington recently.

One of the strongest advocates of a government central bank of issue is Senator Henry C. Hensbrough, of North Dakota, a member of the senate finance committee, who will discuss the subject with the president at the white house on Monday.

Sentinel Hensbrough would establish a central bank in Chicago, "near the center of commerce and agriculture, as far away from the speculative atmosphere as possible."

Would Settle Financial Question.
In discussing the question today he said: "I think the establishment of a central bank of issue under the full direction of the government is the only solution of the financial question as it has presented itself again and again to the people of this country.

Really, we cannot go on in this way.
Financial furies and squeezes which are of such frequent occurrence at the great money centers of the country are the legitimate offspring of a bad financial system. These things do not occur in European countries where they have their banking system on a solid and enduring basis, under complete government control.
Until we adopt a central bank of issue, or something like it, there can be no permanent relief."

New York, Nov. 25.—Investment buying in small lots of railroad and industrial securities in Wall street still continues "unprecedented. This enormous odd lot buying, bringing as it does thousands of dollars into circulation, has been in progress for several weeks and is doing more than anything else, perhaps, to effect a relaxation in the stringency of the currency condition.

Transfer books show a record breaking number of stockholders and in its Northern Pacific railway number of stockholders more than doubled in the last six months. There are now 9,000 shareholders, while the transfer books six months ago showed only 4,200 names. Within the last half year the number of stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad has leaped from 1200 to 220. The large number of shareholders of the Great Northern railway has swamped the transfer department of the company with work. Vice-President Nichols stated that, from November 1, 1901, to November 14, 1907, the books showed an increase of 488 per cent. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul took on over 1200 stockholders in the six weeks preceding November 15.

Taft Kills Time on Train.

ful journey through a pleasant, but frozen country, Secretary Taft is passing the hours studying Philippine reports and playing bridge whist.

He is gaining in flesh though he exercises at the stations snow balling. Occasionally he chats familiarly with Russian military and civil officers.

military attaché at St. Petersburg, will meet the party at Moscow. The czar will give Taft an audience Tues-

TRIED HARI-KARI.

Japanese Student in Bellevue Hospital Refuses to Talk.
New York, Nov. 25.—Believed to have attempted hari kari, Guhi Oka, a Japanese student, is in Bellevue hospital. There is a deep wound, seven inches long, across the abdomen, such as the men of his country make when they decide to kill themselves. There is also a cut in the forehead and one in the neck.

In regard to how he received his injuries, the young man is silent. He takes refuge behind a pretended ignorance of language, yet the few questions he has answered were in perfect English.

Oka lived in a Japanese boarding house, but at that place no one was able to obtain information as to how he came by his wounds or what was the character of the weapon with which they were made.

M. K. PLUMMER ARRESTED.

Member of an Old Family Charged With Theft.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 25.—Maurice K. Plummer, a descendant of one of the oldest families of Tennessee, is under arrest, charged with the theft of a few articles valued at $30, from the Blackwell-Wieland Book and Stationery company, where he was employed.

"I can't understand why I took the articles," he said. "They were of small value and not even useful. I made no attempt to dispose of them. The first thing I took was a china Teddy Bear."

Plummer came here four years ago from Nashville, Tenn., where his wife and mother are at present, and both ill. The man told a story of a pathetic struggle to make a living for an invalid wife, and begged tearfully that the news of his disgrace be kept from his mother and wife. He said his wife had gone to Nashville to take care of the mother some weeks ago and had fallen sick herself. The couple have one child, a little girl.

Governor-Elect Willson and Mrs. Willson in Washington.

Of Governor-elect Willson's "rest cure" in Washington City, the Sunday correspondence of the Courier-Journal from Washington says:

"Until next Tuesday, when they leave for New York, the governor-elect of Kentucky, the Hon. Augustus E. Willson, and his charming wife are guests of Mr. Willson's long friend and legal associate in the past in Louisville, Mr. Justice Harlan, and his wife at the Harlan's pleasant home on the heights on Fourteenth street and Euclid avenue. The governor-elect and Mrs. Willson, with their distinguished host and hostess, were guests on Friday of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at luncheon at the white house. In fact, although Mr. Willson and his wife have paused in Washington for a rest after the exigencies of a successful campaign, their friends are allowing them small respite from social strenuousness. Their days are full of gay engagements. Mr. Willson has crossed sticks with Justice Harlan on the golf course and lost, which is by no means a habit of the gubernatorial victor of the Bluegrass state. But, then, Justice Harlan is also of good Kentucky stuff."

NO NAPOLEON RELICS

Can Be Found at Present Day on Island of St. Helena.

Paris, Nov. 25.—That there are no relics of Napoleon to be found on the island of St. Helena, where Napoleon died, is the interesting statement made by Frederick Masson, of the French Academy, former secretary of Prince Napoleon, and author of numerous works on Napoleon and Josephine. M. Masson says the house where Napoleon lived, the one that is shown today to tourists, is a faked one. The real dwelling house of Napoleon, he says, was a very small house, with no cellar, which ended by being used as a pig sty and long ago went to ruin.

The tomb no longer exists. In fact, nothing whatever that pertains to Napoleon remains in St. Helena.

The Body Merely Machine.

There are just any number of diseases in which the Osteopathic is the only treatment that will give any relief at all.

The various phases of neuralgia and rheumatism as an example yield more readily to the Osteopathic treatment than they do to medicine. So too do lumbago, chronic headaches, partial paralysis and kindred ailments, and to one who knows the first principals of Osteopathy it is easily to see why this is so.

Osteopathy is a scientific system of exercise for the nerves and organs of the body—simply manipulation by which it restores structural normality. The body is a machine run by unseen forces called life, and that it may run harmoniously it is necessary that there be liberty of blood, nerves and arteries from the generating point to destination. This is what osteopathy does—gives liberty to the blood, nerves and arteries.

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. ACETANILID

DECIDED BY ILLINOIS STATE BOARD DANGEROUS IN QUANTITIES.

Listed Among Drugs Likely to Produce Insanity If Taken in Excess.

Headache powders containing acetanilid are recognized by the state board of public charities of Illinois as a drug concoction whose improper use may cause insanity. This is one of the advancements made in the new court interrogation in insane cases which replace the old form.

Executive Officer William C. Graves has sent samples of the new interrogatories to county judges, county clerks and county physicians with notice that they are to be put into effect not later than January 1, 1908.

The list of poisons not developing within the body from conditions of disease, such as fevers, which may figure in the causes of insanity and which are printed in the interrogatories for information as to their use by patients is as follows:

"Alcoholic beverages, morphine, cocaine, acetanilid (in headache powders or other forms), tobacco, bromides, mercury, lead, arsenic, atropine, chloral hydrate and illuminating gas."

HIGH RATE

ADVOCATED BY PRESIDENT FOR EMERGENCY CURRENCY.

Does Not Favor Fowler's Bankers' Association Measure—Policy of Administration.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Many financial authorities and others who have imagined that President Roosevelt had been stamped by the disagreeable financial situation and would agree to the passage of almost any currency bill, no matter how much it might favor the banking interests, will be disagreeably surprised within the next week or two.

The administration, with characteristic fearlessness, resorted to an old law so as to issue a new form of government securities which would form the basis of national bank notes and thus relieve the currency stringency. This was an emergency measure and it was so planned by the administration.

The president was aware at the time he instructed Secretary Cortelyou to issue these certificates of indebtedness that his act alone broke the back of an impending financial and commercial crisis.

President Not for Asset Bill. It does not by any means follow that the president or administration generally will stand sponsor for any permanent system of currency legislation, which is designed to throw into the hands of the banks the right to issue notes on their uncovered assets in such quantities that the tendency will be to keep the notes out for an indefinite period.

The president's message to congress will not recommend the passage of a general asset banking bill on the lines of that proposed by the American Bankers' association and pressed in the house by Mr. Fowler of New Jersey, chairman of the committee on banking and currency.

According to the president's view as gained by those who have talked with him recently, new legislation should provide for emergency notes, which would be what their name indicates. That is to say, they should be taxed so heavily they could not be kept out one minute after the time of extraordinary rates for money. Instead of a slight tax, the administration policy would put a rate of fully 7 per cent upon these uncovered asset notes, and would with the money thus derived build up a substantial guarantee fund, which would satisfy all depositors and noteholders that the banks were safe, and which would enable the government to step in whenever the bank failed and pay off the major part of its liabilities out of the guarantee fund.

ENGLISH WORK IN THE SCHOOLS.

No. 5. J. A. Carnegie.

Letter Writing.

Letter writing is the one form of written composition that is used throughout adult life. It should begin in the third grade of school and continue through the course. Although stately letters are things of the past yet there is no surer criterion of culture and ability today than the power to write a good letter. Business men frequently ask for letters of application for men who seek employment. The test of a good letter of application from men who seek writing to the tastes and interests of the person to whom he is writing. Much of the composition work previously studied should take this form. The letters pupils write at the beginning of the year should be kept and compared with those written at the end of the year. It is often difficult to get interesting letters written in school because the conditions under which they are written are unreal. The child usually, has no letter to answer and no real person to write to. An ingenious teacher can relieve the situation somewhat. Pupils may write letters to those in another room or city. Children in one row of seats may write to those in another row. The teacher may furnish a letter to be answered, written either by herself, or by someone else. A letter box with lock and key will add to the interest. Any plan that makes the children write under the impulse of interest will improve the quality of the letter.

"In Letters and Letter Writing," Miss Dye says, "Letters form a distinct department of literature. The list of all the noble letter writers from Cicero to our own cannot be mentioned at one sitting, but in such a list are letters for young and old and letters to suit the varying tastes of all classes of people. The young person that doesn't know Phillips Brooks' letters of travel to Gertie, or Victor Hugo's letters to his children, or Hans Andersen's letter to Marie, will hardly make up for what he has missed. What music lover could afford not to know the letters of Sidney Lanier, giving his musical impressions to his wife? The letters of Huxley and Darwin are valued to every scientist, and people of literary taste can scarcely forego the fine charm and literary flavor of the letters of James Russell Lowell, John Motley, Henry Thoreau, George W. Curtis, Celia Thaxter, Chas. Lamb, Alfred Tennyson, Robert Louis Stevenson, and of Gilbert White's journal, making Selbourne from that time, famous to the world. The very nature of a letter makes it the means of securing spontaneity. Letters and literature have for their aim the communication of good will, the increasing of sympathy and the finer social instincts; the sharing of knowledge and the promotion of intelligence and higher aims. Surely these purposes belong to composition writing. It may be undeniably claimed that letters beginning with 'Dear Friend' followed by dreary passages, and ending with words of

SO SOOTHING.

Its Influence Has Been Felt by So Many Paducah Readers.

The soothing influence of relief. After suffering from itching piles. From Eczema or any itchininess of the skin. Makes one feel grateful to the remedy.

Doan's Ointment has soothed hundreds. Here is what one Paducah citizen says:

J. R. Womble, of 1162 Broadway, Paducah, Ky., says: "For years I was a sufferer from itching piles in a very severe form. They were the plague of my life. When I would get heated up they would annoy me terribly and at night I could get no rest. I have often got up and walked around the room. I believe I have tried nearly every remedy that has been on the market but nothing ever gave me the desired relief until I got a box of Doan's Ointment at Du Bois & Co.'s drug store. The very first application gave me relief and after the second day I could go to bed at night and sleep as peacefully and quietly as anyone. The one box cured me entirely. It is now about three months since I used it and there has been no sign of a return. I also used the ointment on my hand for a sore and found it very healing." (From a statement given in 1900.)

A Lasting Cure.

On Feb. 18, Mr. Womble confirmed the above statement by saying: "I gave a statement in 1900 telling how Doan's Ointment had cured me of a severe case of itching piles. I am glad to confirm that statement at this time as the cure has been lasting. Doan's Ointment is certainly a superior remedy for this trouble or any akin affection."

STOP WOMAN AND CONSIDER

First, that almost every operation in our hospitals, performed upon women, becomes necessary because of neglect of such symptoms as Backache, Irregularities, Displacements, Pain in the Side, Dragging Sensations, Dizziness and Sleeplessness.

Second, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has cured more cases of female ills than any other medicine known. It regulates, strengthens and restores women's health and is invaluable in preparing women for child-birth and during the period of Change of Life.

Third, the great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time being published by special permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

For more than 30 years has been curing Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and Organic Diseases, and it dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health. Write today, don't wait until too late.

Accommodating Diseases.

The parents of a Baltimore lad, a pupil in one of the public schools, are fond of a boasting that their hopeful has never missed a day's attendance at school during a period of eleven years.

On one occasion the proud father was asked to explain how this apparently impossible feat had been accomplished. "Did he have the usual childhood diseases—measles, whooping-cough, and so on?" the father was asked.

"Oh, yes."

"How, then, could he have always been at school?"

"The fact is," explained the father, "he always had 'em during the holidays."—Harper's Weekly.

Gum and Thought.

One thing is certain—you cannot chew gum and think at the same time with any degree of success. You may chew gum and work mechanically, and you may read with gum in your mouth and perhaps not miss anything in the author, but when it comes right down to good hard mental effort you cannot concentrate and achieve the best results of which you are capable while your jaws work unceasingly.—Chicago Tribune.

Spectacles for Cows.

A Russian firm which manufacture optical goods has just completed an order for 40,000 pairs of glasses to be worn by cows. These spectacles are necessary because the steppes, the great Russian prairie, are covered with snow for six months in the year; but during a part of the time delicate fresh grass tips protrude from the white and dazzling mantle. The cows then are turned out to feed on the new grass, but if their eyes are unprotected from the dazzle of sunshine on the snow it gives them snow blindness. Hundreds have died from this cause; but a rude, cheap kind of spectacles, made from leather and smoked glass, was invented, and since has been used with great success.—Chicago Tribune.

PASSENGER CUTS ST. CAR CONDUCTOR

Motorman Knocks Passenger

Trouble on South Third Street Car
Saturday Night Results in Serious Affray.

ALBERT BEATON IS HELD OVER

Albert Beaton, a pump man employed by the Ohio Sand and Gravel company, was beaten into insensibility by Asa R. Webb, a street car motorman on the Third street line, Saturday night, while Beaton was attempting to stab M. V. Goodman, a conductor, whom it is said Beaton attacked because the conductor told him he must pay his fare or leave the car. Conductor Goodman was cut about the face and neck.

Beaton boarded the street car at Third and Washington streets and according to the car men and passengers, was drinking heavily. When Goodman came around to collect the fare he became angered at some remark Goodman made about changing a $10 bill. When Beaton produced the $10 bill for his passage the conductor asked him if he did not have any smaller change, and it is said that Beaton said he did not and placed the bill back in his pocket, saying he would ride for nothing, if he could not get the bill changed. Goodman asked for the bill that he might get the change, when Beaton, issaid to have become abusive. He finally gave the conductor a dollar and the change was made and it was thought that the trouble was over until the car reached the N. C. & St. L. crossing at Third and Norton streets. When the car stopped and the conductor got off to flag the crossing, Beaton demanded to know why the car stopped and went out where the conductor was. Goodman attempted to explain, when, it is said, Beaton, who is a much larger man than the conductor, knocked Goodman down and jumped on him and began to cut him about the neck. Motorman Webb ran back and struck Beaton several times on the head.

IS CONSUMPTION INHERITED?

Opinion of a Prominent Bacteriologist Given at a Recent Lecture at Harvard College.

Prof. H. C. Ernst in a recent lecture before Harvard Medical school discussed this theory at length. He claims that consumption is not an inherited disease, and that the children of parents who have had tuberculosis are as likely to grow up strong and healthy as children of parents who have not. Dr. Ernst further claims that the cardinal means for curing this dread disease are plenty of fresh air, sufficient nutritious food, rest and exercise.

For centuries physicians everywhere have recognized the value of cod liver oil in the treatment of consumption and all wasting diseases, but unfortunately few could take it with benefit on account of the indigestible oil.

Vinol has solved this problem. It is the modern cod liver preparation, without oil, made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, combining with peptonate of iron, all the medicinal, healing and body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil or grease. As a specific for all throat and lung troubles, and as a strength creator and body builder Vinol is unexcelled. Try it on our offer to return your money if it fails to give satisfaction. W. B. McPherson, druggist, Paducah, Ky.

with the motor key. Beaton was rendered unconscious and was brought to the police station in the patrol wagon, where medical aid was summoned.

At the station it was found that Beaton was not seriously wounded, but that Mr. Goodman had received two ugly gashes on the side of the head, one ear being split by the knife blade and another cut on the back of the neck. The places were sewed up and Goodman was carried to his home on Clements street in Mechanicsburg. Beaton was locked up and when the case was called in police court this morning he waived examining trial, and was held to the grand jury, bail being fixed at $300. Goodman was not able to appear in court this morning, though it is thought that his wounds are not of a very serious nature.

Rockefeller Gives $2,000,000.
New York, Nov. 25.—The board of directors of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research of this city announced today an additional gift from John D. Rockefeller of $2,000,000.

The money is to form an endowment fund, the proceeds of which may be used in any way the directors see fit.

It is understood that the recent success of the institute in discovering a remedy for cerebro-spinal meningitis, which followed a lengthy investigation under the guidance of Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the institution, was largely responsible for Rockefeller's gift.

The breach of peace charge against John Crawford and Nan Nash was continued until Wednesday. Crawford is confined to his bed with consumption and will never be able to appear in court. NEGRO WOULD DANCE AND JUST ESCAPES LYNCHING.

Redondo, Cal., Nov. 25.—There was an incipient race riot among the sailors of Admiral Dayton's fleet last night that nearly terminated in a lynching.

A negro sailor named Epps presented himself at a local hall where a dance was in progress. He was refused admission and started a fight. Several white sailors who were present assisted in ejecting him.

He went across the street, where the quarrel was renewed, and he was knocked down by a white sailor. In leaving the place Epps knocked down and seriously injured a white woman on the sidewalk.

Immediately the negro was seized by a number of sailors and, after being given a severe beating, was escorted up the street with shouts of "lynch him!"

Policemen rescued Epps and took him to jail. He was taken aboard the Maryland this morning and turned over to the ship's officers.

The white sailors are severe in their denunciation of the negro sailor who attempted to meet them socially on terms of equality.

The present attack, it is said, developed Thursday last, and although severe at first, Mr. Cleveland showed considerable improvement on Friday. The details of his condition could not be learned at his home last night. Beyond an admission "that he was very ill and confined to his bed" no information was given out.

Because our stock of twenty-five dollar suits is so depleted, we are necessarily compelled to reduce the thirty-five dollar kind to twenty-five dollars this week only. These comprise some of our newest and most desirable suits, which consist of Herringbone Worsteds in black and colors, English Cheviots with wood fibre binding, and the Broadcloth or Fancy Suits that are unequalled in style or quality. These suits were great values at thirty-five dollars and will be sold this week for
